Farewell Year 12, 2016!

Term 3 has come to an end and, for Year 12, 2016, so has the end of their secondary schooling. Today, we say farewell to Year 12 and wish them all the best for the future, whatever their next adventure; whether it be further education, seeking employment, or taking a gap year.

We have been very fortunate at Ingleburn High School to have dedicated and mature student leaders in our Captains and Prefects and I would like to pay special tribute to Lachlan Chau and Maddison Ross for their outstanding efforts as Captains for 2016 and I know with the leadership experiences gained during this year, that they will experience success in whatever endeavour they pursue. I would also like to acknowledge the Prefects for 2016:

Lachlan Natapu
Naman Bansal
Amos King
Kristine Narayanh
Rhiannan McDonald
William Miller
Prinscilla Brayie Kwarteng
Davana Fraser
Ashika Jagdish

Along their journey towards the HSC, Year 12 were nurtured and supported by their Year Adviser, Mr Peter Noakes and his very able Assistant, Ms Marnie Mastrovasili. These two teachers have done an outstanding job and have played a large role in helping Year 12 reach the point at which we have arrived with their graduation.

Graduation from high school is a major milestone in the life of any young person, but for many students of Ingleburn High School, they will be the very first in their families to reach this goal. I am also very aware that, along the way, their parents and families have guided and encouraged, and yes, sometimes, nagged to ensure the work was completed, the uniform worn and the deadlines met. It is not easy being a parent but I do know that Year 12 students really do appreciate your support, as does the staff of Ingleburn High School.

Congratulations, Year 12. Remember that this is the next step in your journey to new and amazing experiences and, on behalf of everyone at Ingleburn High School, I sincerely wish you every success and happiness. I hope you all live up to the school's values: Tolerance, Integrity and Excellence every day of your lives and look back with fondness on your days as a student of Ingleburn High School.

Farewell Mrs Dolstra and Welcome Back Mr Cheadle!

As we say farewell to Year 12, so I also bid farewell to Ingleburn High School! I have been relieving Principal of Ingleburn High School for just on twelve months and I have really grown to love the school and when I say the school, I don't mean the buildings but what makes up a school: the staff, students and community. Ingleburn High School has outstanding teachers and the commitment of the parents, especially those parents on the P&C, led by Mrs Sue Roberts is second to none. I hope everyone associated with the school appreciates just how hard the staff work to ensure your children have access to first rate opportunities; academically, socially and in the sporting arena. The experiences students can participate in are on par with any school. It is really up to the students to recognise these opportunities and commit to trying their very best and aim for the excellence that is integral to this school's values. There are some very exciting plans on the horizon for Ingleburn High School and, as I return to Macquarie Fields High School, I look forward to seeing those plans come to fruition in 2017 and beyond. I would like to thank the Executive of Ingleburn High School for their support, their dedication and professionalism. Special thanks are due to the Deputy Principals, Mr Butler and Mr Hugo, without whom I would not have been able to lead the school.

As I take my leave from Ingleburn High School, we welcome the return, fighting fit, of the substantive Principal, Mr Cheadle. I have been keeping Mr Cheadle abreast of the many happenings at Ingleburn High School and I know he is very excited about his return.

I wish everyone in the Ingleburn High School community all the very best for the future and I will always have very fond memories of my time at the school. Have a wonderful term break!

Relieving Principal

ALL THE BEST YEAR 12

Thirteen years of school education has almost come to an end. It has been a long journey with many challenges along the way. Enjoy and celebrate this wonderful achievement. However, you've got one last challenge ahead...the HSC. So, focus on the goal of completing your exams: prepare well, study, bring 2 pens and look forward to resting and relaxing after your final exam.

Make sure you use the holiday time wisely in preparing for your exams: organise your notes and textbooks, make sure all of your equipment is easily accessible to limit time wasting distractions, get plenty of rest, exercise regularly and eat a balanced diet.

Before you begin your exams make sure you have a healthy breakfast. If you wish you can still come along to the Breakfast Club which operates every Tuesday - Friday from 8.00am in BR0038. It would be great to see you there.

All the best Year 12. Miss Mastrovasili and I have had such a wonderful time supporting and mentoring you these past 2 years. We wish you every success for the future.

Remember: have fun, work hard and do your best.

Mr Noakes and Miss Mastrovasili
